

THE TECHNANCIAL COMPANY AND RHT COMPLIANCE SOLUTIONS COMBINE THEIR EXPERTISE TO DELIVER A NEW TECHNOLOGY SOLUTIONS PLATFORM TO ASIAN MARKETS

Tuesday, 7 June 2016, London: The Technancial Company (TTC) and RHT Compliance Solutions (RHT) today announce a collaborative partnership bringing powerful value propositions to broker dealers and financial institutions in Asia with the launch of a new platform. The platform combines the strong expertise of both companies providing brokers, banks and exchanges, operating within Singapore, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, Vietnam, Korea, and Taiwan, with the technology required to comply with the complexities of various regulatory, legal and compliance frameworks.

Following extensive market research carried out by TTC and RHT, their offering has been created to plug the existing gap of limited resources of time, skills and manpower in Asian markets, which are a necessity to fulfil various operational and legal obligations. Currently the market solutions in Asia are predominantly tailored to empower the larger players by offering compliance packages at a price premium, which, the TTC/RHT research highlights as the main cause of barriers to regulatory compliance for mid to small level players - including a large number of banks and broker dealers. The TTC/RHT solution therefore will enable easier compliance to this market segment, with the most comprehensive and cost-effective compliance solution.

In terms of the partnership offering, TTC has combined its expertise in compliance and regulation within the European arena and fused it with RHT's in-depth understanding of Asia. By collaborating with RHT's regulatory compliance consultancy expertise with banks, brokers, exchanges and regulators, the strength of the product will help organisations in Asia to create consistent regulatory frameworks and structures - ensuring compliance. Furthermore, the platform provides active surveillance and tracking capabilities within the regulatory framework, and highlights early warning signs allowing users to avoid aspects such as prosecution and defend erroneous accusations by authorities.

Mirko Marcadella, MD of The Technancial Company, said: "The market in Asia is currently dominated by extremely costly compliance solutions, mainly aimed at large organisations. However, smaller brokers and banks cannot afford those sort of prices but also need to comply with strict regulatory compliance. The combination of RHT's and TTC's highly cost-effective solutions therefore brings all the players in this market something very different, with a truly affordable holistic approach to everyone's regulatory compliance"

Nizam Ismail, Co-Founder of RHT Compliance Solutions said: "We are delighted to work with The Technancial Company to offer a combination of technology and regulatory compliance expertise, which we believe is a powerful and a unique proposition."
